Dear Parents and Carers,

This May, we're inviting children to join us for Pyjamarama, a day in pyjamas to raise funds for BookTrust to make sure no child misses out on their bedtime story. On Thursday 22nd May, you won't need to get the kids dressed – we're asking them to wear their pyjamas all day long in return for a £1 donation. If you would prefer your child not to wear their PJs, that's fine – just choose a colourful T-shirt instead.

Pyjamarama is organised by BookTrust, the UK's largest children's reading charity, and is an annual event which encourages children to get reading. We'll organise a special day filled with different reading-related activities, from watching author and illustrator videos to completing activity sheets to reading, sharing and talking about stories.

If you would like to continue Pyjamarama at home and are looking for inspiration for books to enjoy at home, take a look at BookTrust's latest recommendations at booktrust.org.uk/hometime. You can also find useful tips and advice on reading at home at booktrust.org.uk/reading-tips-and-advice.

Thank you for your support, we look forward to all enjoying a day in our pyjamas on Thursday 22nd May.

Kind Regards,
Miss Sidhu
